

RACING AT WESTCHESTER.

HORSES THAT CAN RUN DOWN HILL.

WINNERS OF YESTERDAY'S CONTESTS—FEATURES OF THE DAY'S SPORT.

A fair crowd attended the races at Morris Park yesterday. Cloudy skies and a cool, raw wind caused many women to remain at home. For persons who were inside the clubhouse, which is exclusively for the club members, there is so much talk about the respective merits of the leading thoroughbred...

One of the excuses given for defeated favorites on the part of the trainers is that the horses were not in the best of their condition. It is likely that a new set of trainers will result from the bantering talk of the different breeders. Such a contest would be a desirable addition to racing, and the public, especially the women, would be glad to see it.

There is a feeling of uneasiness in the minds of the trainers and owners of the horses that are to be run in the fall. It is likely that a new set of trainers will result from the bantering talk of the different breeders. Such a contest would be a desirable addition to racing, and the public, especially the women, would be glad to see it.

GLOOM AMONG THE CRANKS.

THE GIANTS AGAIN OVERWHELMED BY ST. LOUIS.

BETTER PLAY BY THE WESTERNERS TELLS THE TALE—BROOKLYN SHUTS OUT ANSON'S MEN. GAMES YESTERDAY. St. Louis 5, New York 1. Philadelphia 10, Louisville 2. Brooklyn 5, Chicago 0. Cleveland 2, Boston 8.

There is another painful tale to tell of the happenings at the Polo Grounds yesterday. Gloom and a weary feeling prevailed all over Harlem last night because of the dismal record made by the Giants in the little valley. It was the second game between the New-York and St. Louis teams, and like the first it resulted in a victory for the men from the West.

The St. Louis men played in excellent form throughout, their batting being strong and their base-running and fielding clever. To be beaten by the New-York team, which had not yet had a chance to show its strength, was a disappointment to the fans.
